

Are you Addressing Workload Together?

To support schools in reducing workload, the DfE has launched a series of online resources or 'workload toolkit' to support school leaders and teachers to help review and reduce workload in their schools.

Have you looked at these as a leader, or as a staff?

Are you worried about lifting the lid on that can of worms?

Would you love to address the issue and explore the toolkit, but, you are too busy?

Would you like an experienced headteacher to;

Introduce the toolkit?

Facilitate discussions?

Summarise your conclusions and help you transfer these into do-able actions?

If so get in touch...

Contact Noo Thinking for a no obligation, initial, exploratory conversation.

020 8123 9277

www.noothinking.co.uk

workingtogether@noothinking.co.uk

Nicole Godetz runs Noo Thinking Consultancy. Nicole was an executive head teacher, but now runs her own company. Nicole works with individuals, schools, businesses and organisations, supporting the implementation of effective work and change management processes. She is an experienced consultant, trainer, coach, mentor and mediator. She has supported staff at all levels, and is well placed to help colleagues in the education sector.

